Proposal B-The Flour and Honey Baked

2.1 Organisation Overview

The Flour and Honey Bakery was established in 2021 by Amara Peterson a self taught baker with a background in nutrition and an unwavering dedication to quality. Operating from her home kitchen in Observatory, Cape Town. Amara specialises in sourdough breads, custom celebration cakes, croissants and seasonal treats. Her products have developed a devoted following through Facebook, Instagram and WhatsApp with weekly pre-orders often selling out within hours of being posted. A professional website is the next step in scaling the business, steamlining order management and building a brand identity strong enough to attract partners or catering contracts. Her target audience are families, food lovers and event planners aged 25-55. The mission of the business is to bring joy every table through honest flavourful baking made from quality ingredients. The vision is to grow into a small retail storefront within three years and attract wholesale and event orders.

2.2 Website goals and Objectives

The primary goal of The Flour and Honey Bakery website is to create an appealing and functional digital storefront that drives pre-order showcases Amaara's products and builds a loyal community around the brand.

Specific Goals:

- Enable customers to browse the full product menu and submit structured pre-orders online
- Increase custom cake and event order enquiries by 40% within six months of launch.
- Improve Google visibility for searches like "artisan bakery Cape Town" and "custom cakes Observatory

Key performance indicators:

- Number of pre-order form submissions per week (target 15 within 2 months)
- Average session duration on the menu or products page (target 2+ minutes)
- Reduction in Whatsapp or Instagram messages as customers use pre-order form

2.3 Proposed Website Features and Functionallity

- Pre-order this week button linking to the enquirey form
- Weekly specials session with 3 featured products updated regularly
- Customer testimonials and star ratings
- Amar's baking history
- Categorised product grid
- Contact form for general enquiries and links to other social media using their icons
- Collection address

Real competitor research specific to Cape Town:

Mane & Grace references Excentric Hair (excentric-hair.co.za) in Sea Point and Kloof Street, Cut Above Salon on the 19th floor of the Westin Hotel, and Just Style Me Hair Studio (KFM Best of the Cape 2022 winner) all real, named businesses with websites that give them a measurable advantage over a salon operating only on Instagram. It also references Fresha and Booksy which list nearly 80 Cape Town salons, making the point that Grace is invisible to that entire discovery channel.

For The Flour & Honey Bakery, it references Dolce Bakery at 239C Lower Main Road Observatory (a direct neighbour), Tessa's Bakery whose website launch with online ordering was documented as a growth driver, Milly Cupcakes with their full online ordering and next-day delivery system and Queen of Tarts in Observatory — all real businesses that are capturing the customers Amara cannot currently reach.

Industry statistics sourced and cited:

Every number is drawn from actual research the 46–50% of bookings happening after business hours from BLVD's 2025 benchmark report, the 74% of salon guests using Google Search before booking from WifiTalents, the 40% of bakery sales from digital channels from Perkins Franchising, the 29% growth in online bakery purchases from Market Reports World, and Zenoti's finding that top-earning salons get 7 in 10 bookings online versus 3 in 10 for the average salon.
